TENTH OF PER CENT MADE THE DIFFERENCE—

(Carl Hamilton in the Citizen, Iowa Falls.)

Writing in the New York Times, James Reston, makes an interesting observation on the political fate of Richard M. Nixon.

Reston comments, "... Nixon's leadership of his party is challenged, not only in the nation but in California. One day he is within one-tenth of one per cent of being president; the next he is a lawyer in Los Angeles, ducking insults from Goodie Knight, and battling his old pals on the radical right."

The key to Nixon's current problems is found in the phrase, "his old pals on the radical right."

When selected as Eisenhower's running mate in 1952, Nixon was the "fair-haired boy" of the Republican party's more conservative wing. To his credit, he had led the investigation of Alger Hiss, and not so much to his credit, he had defeated Helen Gahagan Douglas in a no-holds-barred fight for the Senate. His tactics in the campaign, while endearing him to some members of his party, alienated many "independent" voters. This group could have well spelled the difference in his defeat and John Kennedy's success in 1960.

Nixon's stand on many issues since leaving office gives good reason to believe that there is a "new Nixon" of a more liberal shade. His pronouncements on Berlin, foreign trade, Laos, the Congo, nuclear testing, etc., are much closer to administration policies than the platform of the Republican party.

It's an odd political irony to find Nixon now being condemned by the very people who helped start him on his political career, and pleading with Republican audiences not to take extreme positions against Kennedy's foreign policy — all just a year after his narrow defeat.

Rings & Vows

ZAINABU ROBERTS OF SIERRA LEONE IS RECENT BRIDE AT CHURCH RITES

Miss Zainabu Roberts, a 1961 Westmar graduate was married November 24th to Rev. Eustace Renner at the Paynesville, Minnesota First EUB Church. Both the bride and groom are from Sierra Leone, West Africa.

Rev. Wilert Zahl and Rev. Christin Renner performed the double ring ceremony. After the vows were spoken the entire wedding party participated in Holy Communion. The beautiful hymn "Great is Thy Faithfulness" was sung by the entire congregation.

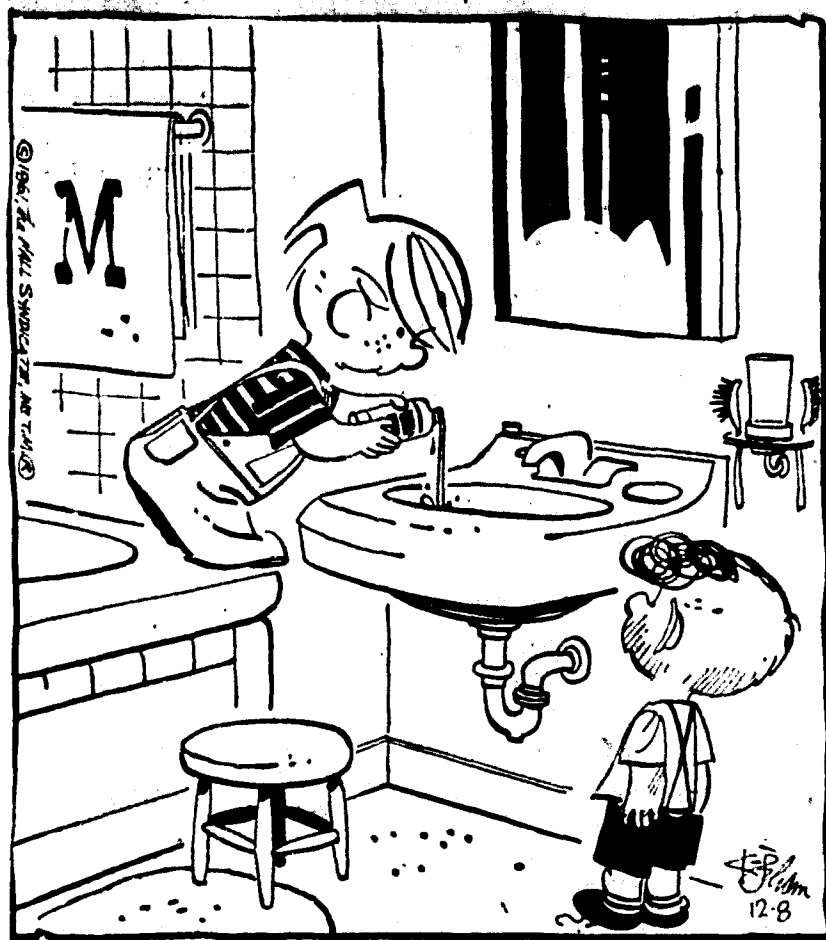

Zainabu was given away by Dr. Richard Kelfa-Caulker, the Ambassador to the U. S. from Sierra Leone, Africa who was attired in his native costume.

The bride wore a gown of Imported Gardenia White Italian Brocade and hand run Alencon lace, waltz length with a portrait neckline and bouffant skirt. She carried a white Bible on which was arranged a shower of white feathered carnations and streamers.

Dr. Kelfa-Caulker spoke in behalf of his native country and wished the couple well as they go back to their homeland to work with young people and women in Africa.

At the reception Dr. H. H. Kalas expressed appreciation for the contribution Zainabu had made to Westmar College these past four years. Wedding guests also included Mrs. Kalas, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Danner, Dr. and Mrs. G. O. Thompson, Miss Esther Merkle, Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Zuehl, and Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Dehne.

Marilyn Baadte Is Recent Bride

MR. AND MRS. CLEO LAUGHTON

Miss Marilyn Baadte and Cleo Laughton exchanged wedding rings and vows at a 9 o'clock nuptial mass Saturday morning, Nov. 25, at St. Joseph Catholic church.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. D. Fisch officiated before the altar decked with bouquets of yellow pom poms and brown chrysanthemums. Ron Baadte, the bride's brother, was soloist and Mrs. Joe Sheehan was organist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baadte and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Laughton, all of Le Mars.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her chantly lace and tulle over bridal satin gown was made with a modified sabrina neckline, fitted lace bodice accented with sequins and pearls and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was fashioned of ruffled lace and tulle tiers, cascading to a chapel train. Her bouffant illusion veil was caught to an aurora borealis crown. She carried calla lilies.

Maid of honor was Miss Lois Baldes, Le Mars, with Miss Judy Jensen of Sioux City, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Mary Lou Langel, Le Mars, as bridesmaids. Miss Baldes wore a chocolate brown satin cocktail length frock. Bridesmaids wore similar gowns in cocoa brown satin. Matching bow headpieces and cascades of yellow pom poms completed their ensembles.

Gary Ohm, Struble, was best man. Groomsmen were the bride's brother, Marcel Baadte, and Ronald Detloff. Seating guests were Gene Ohm, Struble, and Jim Howard, Grinnville.

Noon dinner was served 100 guests at Hammers restaurant, followed by an afternoon reception for 150 guests. Mothers of the couple wore navy blue frocks with orchid corsages.

The bride is a graduate of ple have recognized the right of the community and of the individual to be put on notice. What is more important, they have practiced this principle consistently. It is possible to say that the true democracies could not neglect this principle and still preserve their way of life.

What is at stake in public notice is the simple right of the public to know, to be informed beforehand of some proposed action which affects someone's rights. These may be the rights of the community itself or of some portion of it, a group or groups within the community, or of people themselves, either as voters, as taxpayers, or as just plain individuals.

Today in the English-speaking countries, for example, the law usually provides for the publication of such notices in newspapers of paid general circulation. Taking all 50 states, there are thousands of such laws. The newspaper is specified because it has an established following, gives wide coverage, is read thoroughly, is both visible and tangible, and is economical. The public notice is an important part of the American way of life.

An irate lawyer trying to establish a point in cross examination demanded of the defendant: "Madam, while you were taking your dog for a walk, did you stop anywhere?" "Sir," said the witness quietly, "have you ever taken a dog for a walk."
